

The Andrew Clark Trust

DECEMBER 2019

My name is Chu Chu. I am working at Vera Thomson English School as a pre-school teacher and also as an English teacher. This school is giving children the chance of education and providing children with access to medical healthcare. I used to be one of the students at Vera Thomson English School and sponsored by this school.

I passed the 10th standard exam in March 2012. In Myanmar, 10th standard exam is a required and rigorous test that determines whether we'll go on to college and what subjects we can study.

After passing the exam, I began as a teacher in-training at Vera Thomson English School. I learnt the ways of teaching from senior teachers and I was guided by qualified teachers from Australia, England and from different countries.

When it was time to choose the subject for my college, I chose English for my further education. I made this decision because I believed that I could learn more at the University and use the knowledge to teach in a new way.

The Andrew Clark Trust

I specialized in English at Sittway University for four years and I was admitted to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts with English Specialization in the Academic Year 2017.

Now, I am running the Pre-school for six hours with eight teachers and there are six classes a day. After the Pre-school, I teach English to the beginners and intermediate level. I like the challenge of working with younger students.

I feel very happy when I see my younger students trying to speak English with confidence. I really want the students to become resources in their communities and to be leaders.

I don't know how to thank our supporters because you all gave me the greatest opportunity. I'll try more to be a good English teacher and I'll share my knowledge to the next generation. This school changed my education level and this school is part of my life.

The Andrew Clark Trust

Dear Friends of the Andrew Clark Trust,

Thank you so very much for your support throughout the year, without which we could not do the valuable work we are doing.

100% of donations go towards education and healthcare.

We all wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Healthy New Year.
